

Guiding Question for Bureau and Advisory Group Feedback

Feedback on CFS 45 from the Bureau and Advisory Group members is an important opportunity to reflect on what worked, what could be improved and what could be done differently, both in the week of the Plenary session and in the intersessional work that leads up to it. Detailed written feedback in advance is welcome, as well as concise feedback given during the meeting. Written feedback will be posted in advance of the meeting on the Working Space.

All feedback will be used in the future planning and rollout of CFS work. Here are a few guiding questions to prompt feedback:

1. The overall agenda of CFS 45 was designed to be interactive, inclusive and interesting while also providing space for delegates to make statements. To what extent was this objective achieved?
2. A traffic light system intended to assist delegates in their time-keeping when making statements was used during CFS 45. How successful was this? Do you have any other suggestions to streamline time-keeping?
3. On Monday afternoon there were panel discussions on SOFA and SOFI co-organized with FAO. What is your feedback on these events?
4. The week of CFS included World Food Day on 16 October which was made up of a high level opening and panel discussions. What is your feedback on this?
5. CFS45 included a Global Thematic on the Right to Food Guidelines. To what extent do you think this event met the Terms of Reference for Global Thematic Events endorsed at CFS 43?
6. On Friday morning there were two lesson sharing panel discussions – one on nutrition and one on the Agenda 2030. How useful do you think such sessions are at sharing lessons and how else could lessons be shared?
7. How useful do you think the Side Events were to the overall experience of CFS 45?
8. Does your feedback have implications for the intersessional work? Could the intersessional work be handled differently and/or require a different approach to Plenary?
9. CFS has now been Papersmart for 3 years. The number of printed copies requested from the Print on Demand centre continues to decline with the exception of Friday morning when the Draft Final Report is published. Leaving aside the Final Report, could CFS 45 go paper free?
10. What other feedback do you have help improve future CFS sessions?

Summary of CFS 45

Attendance

CFS 45 had 1,233 registered delegates representing the following:

- 114 Members of the Committee;
- 10 non-Member States of the Committee
- 13 United Nations Agencies and Bodies;
- 106 Civil society organizations (Civil Society's participation was facilitated by the Civil Society and Indigenous Peoples Mechanism (CSM). This figure includes 57 CSOs under the umbrella of the CSM)
- 6 International agricultural research organizations;
- 1 International and regional financial institutions;
- 79 Private sector associations and private philanthropic (This figure includes 32 companies under the umbrella of the Private Sector Mechanism (PSM)).

High level attendance included one Vice-President; 7 Ministers and 7 Vice-Ministers – see Annex 1 for details.

CFS 45 Opening, and delegate statements

The theme of the opening of CFS 45 was the SOFI 2018 Report. Following Organizational Matters, opening statements were given by the CFS Chair, the executives of FAO, WFP and IFAD, the Chair of the HLPE and a representative of rural women. This was followed by a presentation on SOFI and then delegate statements which continued until the end of the morning session. They continued for one hour in the afternoon reducing the length of the afternoon panel discussions on SOFA and SOFI by half an hour each. The remaining delegate statements were delivered on Friday afternoon just before the adoption of the Final Report. Few delegates adhered to the “three minute” guideline despite the use of the traffic light system. This experience should be taken into consideration for the CFS 46 Agenda and Timetable.

Decision Items

The CFS 45 Agenda included several decision items for endorsement. The preparation and roll out of these decisions went smoothly, including changes made by Plenary, and were forwarded to the Drafting Committee.

Evening Session

To help manage the backlog of discussions and statements, an evening session was agreed on for Wednesday evening. However as a quorum was not present, the discussions could not take place. To make time for the discussions, the time was reduced for the Global Thematic Event and the HLPE Multi-stakeholder Partnerships Report items. The lack of quorum should be noted in the planning of future CFS sessions.

Drafting Committee

Both the Drafting Committee preparations and roll out went very well with the Draft Final Report being finished in under three hours – a record for recent years.

World Food Day

CFS 45 was suspended on World Food Day. All CFS Member and Non Member Countries were invited to the ceremony in the morning. The CFS Secretariat distributed 130 World Food Day Ceremony entry badges to Participants and Observers. The two panel discussions that followed the ceremony were open to all CFS delegates.

Piloting CVENT for Registration

In collaboration with FAO Security, Meeting Services and CIO, the Secretariat piloted the use of CVENT, an online events system, for registering Participants, Observers and Side Event Attendees. In general the pilot went well. The process for Side Event attendees needs to be revisited in light of the high volume of people requesting access to FAO in order to attend Side Events.

Side Events

A total of 57 Side Events and 1 launch event (World Livestock Report) were held at CFS 45. The rollout of the Side Events went very well.

There were a total of 159 Side Event Organizers including organizations new to CFS. Many were organizers in more than one Side Event with FAO involved in 35 Side Events, WFP in 11 and IFAD in 10. For the full list of Side Event Organizers see Annex 2.

Attendance at Side Events was recorded by circulating tablets to the attendees during the event. However, there are many challenges to accurate attendance such as when people arrive late or leave early, or if the room is very crowded. With that, the recorded attendance showed a total of 3,270 Side Event attendees throughout the week giving an average attendance per Side Event of 56 attendees. The numbers by day are shown below:

By Day
Monday	639	Lunch, PM
Tuesday	276	PM only
Wednesday	1,073	AM, Lunch, PM & Launch
Thursday	738	AM, Lunch, PM
Friday	544	AM , Lunch
TOTAL	3,270

The most attended Side Event recorded 105 attendees, with the second at 104 and the third 98. The Side Event with 98 recorded attendees was on Friday showing that interest in Side Events remains strong throughout the week.

A follow up survey was sent to all Side Event focal points and received a total of 22 responses. 100% of those surveyed were either very satisfied or satisfied with the overall experience of having a Side Event at CFS 45. 82% of the Side Event Organizers surveyed said that having a side event enabled them to engage with stakeholders that they would not otherwise have access to. 100% said they intended to request a side event at a future CFS session. See Annex 3 for a summary of the responses.

Many Side Event organizers sent in the report of their Side Event by the deadline of 1 November. All reports received will be posted on the CFS 45 web page by the end of November.

Information Marketplace

Due to a World Food Day Exhibit in the Atrium, CFS was allocated the Flag Hall with a maximum of 11 tables. With such a reduced number, a call was not put out and the tables were offered to CFS Advisory Group constituencies. The following participated: CGIAR, FAO, IFAD, CSM, PSM, Special Rapporteur on the Right to Food, UNSCN, World Bank and WHO. Tables were also used to display copies of HLPE Reports and CFS Policy Guidelines and Recommendations including the CFS RAI, CFS FFA and the VGGT which were all popular items.

Outreach and Media

Articles on CFS 45 were posted on the Intranets of IFAD and WFP to inform staff. FAO published media articles on CFS 45:

- No time to lose to reverse negative hunger and malnutrition trends
- Committee on World Food Security focuses on food systems and nutrition

Media coverage of CFS 45 was monitored by the FAO Newsroom. Coverage was diverse and, this year, probably impacted by World Food Day and by the launch of SOFA in the same week. Total articles detected mentioning CFS in the official languages, plus German, Italian and Portuguese are about 230 (monitoring capacity in Ar, Ru and Zh are limited).

Several media focused on the presence of national authorities attending CFS 45. See Annex 3 for the list of CFS 45 Media mentions.

IISD Reporting Services covered CFS 45 Plenary Sessions. The daily reports and summary of the week at this link.

CFS 45 on Social Media and Web stats

The CFS social media campaign was under-resourced for CFS 45 due to financial constraints and the period of transition during the evaluation. Also there were no social media reporters this year who brought substantial social media traffic to CFS 43 and CFS 44. Despite this, on Monday 9 October, #CFS45 was trending on Twitter in Rome. During the week, the official hashtag #CFS45 was used in approximately 5,900 tweets by 1463 contributors, seen by over 6 million people.

The CFS website was visited by 4002 users during the week of CFS45, staying on the website for around 2 minutes 50 seconds and visiting 2.5 pages each. The top ten user locations were Italy, US, UK, France, Germany, Switzerland, India, Canada, Brazil and Spain.

PaperSmart/Greening

Through collaboration with CIO, CFS 45 was well served by WiFi this year. The number of requests at the Print on Demand centre was again reduced with the exception of Friday morning when the Draft Final Report was ready. The Secretariat will look at ways to support the very few delegates who require paper documents while reducing the cost of staffing the Print on Demand centre for the whole week.

Participants were invited to choose green accommodation, bring refillable water bottles and side event organizers were offered sustainable menus. The CO2 equivalent emissions associated with CFS 45 will be offset through the UNFCCC Climate Neutral Now platform.
